

A San Francisco writer tells this incident of the fire: "I happened upon one of the victims of the fire sitting near the site of his old home, his hat pulled over his eyes, loafing and looking down in spots the fire still smoldered. The horror was hardly more than a week old, yet presently this man fetched a deep yawn, stretched his arms abroad. 'Gee whiz!' he complained, 'I wish something would happen. This is getting tedious.'"
